It's an exciting time at Southold Free Library!

We are very excited to announce that our new website has been launched. Please check it out at southholdlibrary.org (see page 7) for Library links and resources you will love to use. And thanks to Emmy-Award winning photojournalist, Randee Daddona, it's beautiful too.

Our construction project is moving forward. It has been a quarter of a century since we last renovated the library. During that time the role of a public library has changed dramatically. We are currently in the design phase of our project and still have much to accomplish. However, I am pleased to inform you that we don't plan on borrowing funds for this project. We hope to complete the project utilizing donations and by increasing our fundraising efforts. Once we have a more definitive plan we will be presenting our project for your input. On other fronts, we are also continuing to improve our pocket park, which is located just to the east of the library. Many of you have enjoyed the "Little Free Library" at McCabe's Beach this summer. Going forward we hope to expand this project and have books available for the public to read at several beaches.

Finally, I wanted you to know that the number of residents enjoying all the library has to offer have been steadily increasing. If you haven't been to the library lately, please stop in anytime. Caroline and her wonderful staff are available to help you make your library experience fulfilling.

David Robinson

President, Library Board
