

Library Programs

The Southold Free Library offers programs for individuals of all ages. Programs are planned to provide entertainment, information, expand library resources, and/or encourage lifelong learning. Programs are developed and coordinated by library staff. They may be co-sponsored by the Friends of the Library, other libraries, or other community organizations. Programs are selected by library staff for their relevance to community interests and needs, popularity, and suitability.

Preschool story times are presented by library staff on a regular schedule throughout the year. Other programs for children and young adults are planned according to the school schedule. Children's programs may be restricted by age level.

Programs for adults are scheduled throughout the year. Performers may not directly solicit business before, during or following a program without prior permission from the Director. The Library does not endorse nor support the views of any presenter.

Library programs are open to anyone wishing to attend. If space restrictions or program requirements limit the number of people who can attend, preference is given to patrons of the library. Persons attending any library programs are expected to adhere to the library's policies on patron conduct.

Programs may be held on-site, or offsite. Any sales of products at programs must have prior approval by the Library Director.

Programs may be cancelled due to severe weather, absence of the presenter or low registration, at the discretion of the Library Director or designee.
